big weeping eczema on right leg and some outbreaks in arms and sometimes on ears

Eczema Cured! Philippines: Analysis, Story, Photos

« on: June 14, 2005, 01:54:25 PM »

Hello,

I own a web development firm, we are usually hired on a retainerhip basis. link removed

I usually help people by volunteering for Pro-Life Philippines, helping people in need like those thinking about suicide, abortion divorce, etc.

I also compile my many fertility tips in a new web site www.fertilityhelp.net, also a volunteer effort.

This time, I'm the one who needs help in trying to fix my eczema problem.

On my right leg just above my foot, I let a small eczema patch grow over 3 years now and today it is worse, always weeping (yellowish). I have some other "outlets" on my arms, not as bad as the one on my leg.

My current analysis is that this is Mercury Poisoning due to my many amalgam fillings. I just had two amalgams converted to the new white fillings last week. But alas the dentist's vacuum was busted. So now my eczema's weeping has gotten worse. I have 7 more teeth with amalgam fillings to go.

I am thinking that it is infected and the skin unable to heal. So I bought a couple of Aloe Vera plants and started wiping fresh aloe vera gel on my eczema hoping to give my skin a chance to fix itself. It seems to be starting to work.

I will try to find a dentist that is fully equipped to replace amalgam fillings properly.

I am worried that I may need to have chelation done to clean my blood of the mercury I think is present. I have yet to meet a chelation therapy doctor. I have not studied chelation therapy principles in depth yet. I do not know the risks involved yet. I take Chlorella hoping it can help remove the mercury.

My current supplements being taken everyday to hopefully help me are:

- Chlorella in capsules, 500 mg x 6 a day
- Evening Primrose in capsules 500 mg x 6 a day
- Fish Liver oil, 3 tablespoons a day
- Ascorbic Acid 500mg x 3 a day
- Lifestyles Intra (Herbal) 30 ml x 5 shots a day
- Hi-Potency B-stress 2 caps per day
- (vit c - 700mg, thiamin 50mg, riboflavin 50mg, niacin 200mg, vit b6 125mg, vit b12 125mcg, folic acid 400 mcg, biotin 125 mcg, pantothenic acid 200mg, calcium 100mg, magnesium 100mg, chromium 50 mcg, choline 100 mg, inositol 100 mg, paba 50 mg, passion flower 10mg, skullcap 10mg, valerian root 10 mg)

I am a man, so do not worry about hurting my feelings if you think my treatment path is wrong or you think my analysis of my problem is incorrect. I need help. All possible theories and solutions are welcome.

This may sound stupid, but Mercury in your blood?
Do they put enough into the fillings to risk poisoning?
I've never heard of that before, are they older fillings?

There is a lot of documented evidence about mercury poisoning from amalgam fillings. It is taken so seriously that special precautions are taken when removing such fillings. There have been a number of episodes recorded of children with autistic behaviour who improve dramatically once their fillings are removed.

<http://www.shirleys-wellness-cafe.com/amalgam.htm>

Is Mercury Amalgam Fillings slowly poisoning us?

The "silver" fillings in your teeth - Dental Amalgams - are still widely used by the dental profession in most parts of the world. The "Amalgam" consists of a mix of metals - Generally 50% Mercury, 35% Silver, 15% Tin & other metals. But is it safe to put so much Mercury, the most toxic non-radioactive metal known to man, into the mouth of a person? There is now a growing mountain of evidence that it is NOT safe to do so. Some countries, like Sweden, Canada and Germany, have either banned or imposed serious limitations on Amalgam usage. There is now compelling evidence from reputable scientific bodies such as the World Health Organisation that, despite claims from pro-amalgam bodies such as the American and British Dental Associations (ADA/BDA), mercury is NOT "locked" safely in the metal bonds in the teeth, but can leak slowly into the body, often causing severe illnesses. These are reckoned to possibly include ME/CFS, Multiple Sclerosis, Alzheimers, and a whole range of "auto-immune" illnesses. In fact, just by damaging the immune system, Amalgam could be contributing to an even broader range of illnesses.

This japanese had two amalgam fillings removed and he was totally cured of all eczema in 2 months!

Absolutely fascinating.
For goodness sake sodium flouride is bad for you! I hope you have some luck with this, and get those fillings out.

 Gentleman,

Welcome to our SC cyber family.

Sorry to hear your E is playing you up so much just now and I hope you're able to get those Mercury Amalgam Fillings removed ASAP.

Please do keep us informed as to how you're doing and I'm sure some of the others here with E will come along and give you some suggestions soon.

I know flouride is bad for all of us.
 That is why my family uses non-flouride toothpaste.
 There is also the issue of flouride and chlorine in the tap water.

Sigh... here is an update.

I had a regular dentist remove my amalgams.
Big mistake.
I just wanted to be sure if the amalgams were the cause of my eczema so I had a quarter of my amalgams removed each time.
Sure enough when the top right quarter were replaced... boom... my foot eczema got bigger.
Then the top left quarter.. boom.... got bigger again.
Then the bottoms... boom...

The eczema got so large, I'm starting to panic.

Moral of this story, when removing amalgams, get a Bio-Dentist.

Dentist tells me, to try amoxicillin capsules powder and water and as paste put it on my eczema.
Not good... I started having some rashes.

Now I had the notion that maybe I should go the ocean and have a dip... I will write next time what happened.

Flouride is bad for you??? Then why are so many toothpastes infused with it, and why does the dentist give you a flouride rinse after cleaning your teeth? Why did I buy a $14 special flouride rinse from him? 🤔?

Please, someone tell me it's a different type of flouride that you are talking about.

I would definitely recommend going to the sea for a good long soak ! It is one of the very few things that ever helps my E. But living in cold rainy England I very very rarely get the opportunity to do it. I will warn you that that if your E is particularly flared and the moment it WILL sting like hell but try to grin and bear it.

It does sound as well like u may have an infection in the patch so some antibiotics might be required. Good luck 🤖

Swimming in the ocean was a disaster!

I went to a local herbalist who recommended coconut oil with leaves of soursop.

I picked up some more germs / pollution / protozoa?

My left arm worsened,
My ears wept bad,
My face got inflamed and wept bad too.
My eczema on my right leg grew enormous.
With little seaming sandfly? bites on both left and right legs.

Maybe it was because I did not wash afterwards thinking it is more therapeutic to keep the seawater on my skin.

I met another herbalist who told me to come back to her if I did not get well from the first herbalist.

I changed my subject to Re: Philippines: Eczema, Alternative Treatments, Curing the CORE issues

I think this is appropriate since I am methodically searching for a final CORE CURE.
I am not about to accept the ridiculous notion that eczema is incurable and you have to live with it until the day you die.

I want the world to know that Eczeme is Curable, and I will prove it beginning with myself.

For now, I think the core problems I had began with:

Losing weight more than 2 years ago on a high protein diet caused elevated cholesterol levels.
These started gall stone formation and sluggish bile in my liver.
Eczema started on my leg because of amalgams and the mercury.
If my liver was functioning top notch, it would have processed the mercury.
Things got worse when our family crisis erupted last February and my eczema worsened.
Stress will kill and damage your liver.

Of course colon cleansing, balanced diet, kidney cleanse and parasite cleanse will all work.

No sense in getting pharmaceutical products as all they will do is damage my liver even more.
Homeopath gave me liver tonic called Hepatodoron.
I will start taking it after my cleanse.

Anthroposophic theory says I need to improve my spirit and my soul.

I will get well. I promise. I will catalogue everything here, for others to possibly benefit themselves.

Yes, saw 3 of them. They were all no good. They all made me worse. All they knew was steroids, steroids and more steroids. I had an inkling that the problem is internal. Herbalist kicked it in my head. I had to go to far away Morong Bataan to import her.

My conclusion for now is that western MDs are not usually educated in these types of problems.
They are symptomatic healers, not CORE PROBLEM healers.

I've had good results for now with the Herbalist and the homeopath / anthroposophic doctors.

The homeopath/anthroposophic learned some tips from my herbalist that led us to the current liver cleansing protocol.

Im not too familiar with the Murcury in the blood theory. But to me it sounds like u have an infection in the eczema which is very normal and a simple antibiotic will heal it. Go to your general practitioner. Any kind of skin lesion that seeps fluid is infected. Jacobs eczema gets infected quite often. At the present time he is on cefzil to get rid of his infected ezcema.

Good luck!!!!

Thanks for the advice.
Tried bactroban before, but it made it worse.
Shows the infection was not bacterial.
The herbalist used different herbs everyday for 1 month.
Now that was wide spectrum use.

Liver / Gall Bladder cleanse 1st time has been done.
Just like the web sites at curezone.com predicted,
The sluggish bile was first to go as I felt diarrhea like symptoms and pooped a number of times (5?)
I pooped dozens and dozens of little dark green gem like pebbles. (3 times?)

My itches have subsided.
My face eczema is clearing up and dry.
My ears eczema is clearing up and dry.
My eczema on my right leg is drying up.
But the leishmaniasis style seeming sandfly bites on both my thighs are slow to heal.

My liver pain which started last Saturday has stopped bothering my right chest.
I can poke my right chest just as well as my left chest.
My stomach is not yet digesting at full power so I have to take it slow eating.

The theory is that my liver's flow of bile once restored will clear all the infections and pollutants just like the python bile. The liver pumps out 1 quart per day.

Also theory says that my liver when cleaned and primed to function at 100% efficiency will clean my blood 24 hours a day.

The danger is if my liver is not restored to full health, all the effort my herbalist did at blood cleaning will be wasted as new dirt, toxins and germs will once again pollute my blood.

When I feel my stomach is back online 100%, I will proceed with cleansing worms from my body using the seeds of the ipil-ipil tree. This was suggested by my herbalist. 5 fresh strings per day for 5 days. They actually taste good. Ipil-ipil trees are common here. So this medicine is FREE.

I also plan to repeat my liver / gall bladder cleanse after around 45 days. Curezone tips say we need to cleanse for at least 6 times? Will find out.

I am still following the Blood Type diet for my Type B - no chicken, no corn, no tomatoes.

I am reading up the prescription of my homeopathic / anthroposophic doctor regarding the liver tonic and spiritual and soul development.

I have to remember to buy a Kataka-taka potted plant to place beside my computer monitor as my above doc says this gives positive life force against the negatives of the computer monitor.

My doc can tell i have liver weakness by merely looking at the condition of my tongue.

I'd just like to point out that eczema is an extremely common condition in youngsters - well before they have had the chance to have any fillings.

Hi gentleman,

Glad you are sorting out your skin with diet and megavitamin therapy.

Since you're into therapy, have you tried drinking French Argiletz clay (green) to detoxify you from the inside?

If you can either buy it from the internet or where you live and apply thick wet paste of it to the parts of you that are weeping you will find that it will dry up.

I had shingles 3 years ago ontop of my eczema on my legs and the only thing the doctor gave me was calamine lotion...!!

Luckily I had a bag of clay and kept a whole paste of it in a bowl.. whenever I washed my legs I would apply the clay - everyday and wait till the clay was almost dry...it cleared in three weeks.

MSM also detoxifies you and you can buy this from Resonance.com - they're the best...

The evening primrose oil you may have to go up to 20g a day - that's how much I take - you need enough to stop the inflammation and the itching... Space it throughout the day..

Also the MSM take 20g, 5g 4x a day and you will find that your body will feel a whole lot better.

The coconut oil which they manufacture in your country will help to moisturise your skin..Mine is great ever since I started using it in London since June this year.

Hope all goes well for the mercury removal...

Skin Condition:

big weeping eczema on right leg and some outbreaks in arms and sometimes on ears

I am happy to report that I have been CURED.

My ECZEMA has been CURED !!!.

My ECZEMA has been CURED !!!.

Thanks go to:

- The nice people at www.skincell.org: helping me log my determination for the search for the cure.

- My Islamic herbalist who stayed with me for 1.5 months Ate LORNA: cured all my secondary infections with the freshest and widest variety of leaves, herbs and personal touch feeding and dressing and making me go through emergency detox with her avocado leaves tea (1 gallon per day) using my kidneys for cleansing. And using the python bile to cure my left arm... which led to the clue the next doctor was looking for...

- My Holistic / Anthroposophic / Homeopathic / MD - Dr. Divina Hay - who continued my healing by getting the clue from the herbalist that the python bile cured my left arm in 1 night... plus the fact that my tongue has always showed liver weakness, plus the fact that my left shoulder blade has been experiencing pain that cannot be cured by the chiropractor... which shows liver being plugged up... possibly full of stones... it would only be a matter of time before I experience pain as my bile and cholesterol are stuck up my liver... and they should be cleared... and she recommended the apple and olive oil flush.

- The very very helpful people at www.curezone.com: for the very helpful Apple Juice and Olive Oil Liver / Gall Bladder Flush info: I was able to refine and customize the recommendation of Dr Hay with a recipe I found to be suitable for my taste.

- Sister Mary Pilar Verzosa... national coordinator at www.prolife.org.ph for introducing me to the book of Dr. D' Adamo, the blood type diet: being blood Type B, I confirmed through experimentation that CHICKEN was truly bad for me (eczema test).

I just finished my 4th flush.

A few stones still came out, I picked up one green gem stone 1/2 inch long... it might be the last one... and took photos.

How many stones did I expel?

1st flush: ~ 100 green gems 1/2 inch long ones
2nd flush: ~ 12 green gems smaller
3rd flush: ~ 12 green gems smaller
4th flush < 10 green small gems, with 1 big 1/2 inch long

I have to do this 6 to 8 times.

I will show you pictures of the stone, the progress of my big eczema on my right foot which today is around 5% the maximum size it used to be.... the whole eczema grew larger than the palm of my hand!

I will show pictures.
I will share more detail.
I will share my scientific analysis.
I will put up a web site dedicated to the cure for this disease.

That is a promise.

My ECZEMA has been CURED !!!.

My ECZEMA has been CURED !!!.

As promised, the pictures are being posted now.

If you had 100+ stones like these stuck inside your liver and gallbladder... you would get sick too!

My ECZEMA has been CURED !!!.

My Islamic Herbalist, Doctor Lorna Reyes.

Studied her herbal talents as apprentice to her mother in Zamboanga.

I found her in the farthest town of Bataan.

She is around 45 years old with 6 grown children.

Sure she looks like a witch.

She smokes a lot.

My wife did not like her, my grandma didn't like her, my brother did not like her.

But she was gave the most logical diagnosis and proposed treatment:

"You have dirty blood... it must be cleansed from the inside... and out (secondary infections)."

My ECZEMA has been CURED !!!.

Ok. Now that my batteries have charged, I took this photo this morning November 29, 2005
Notice that the only thing left is a small scab on the upper left sector, which should be gone in less than a month.
No creams, no ointments, no nothing is being used topically.

I would like to note that my hair has been growing back.
And the skin that used to have been destroyed by the eczema has now been repaired to even show my characteristic skin "lines".

I will be back here with my analysis of what my disease really was.

I will also return each month to show progress of skin area equalizing with the surroundings. Gotta get me some sun!

Wow Gentleman!

I'm really happy for you....Thanks for showing us the photos! You have really proved that internal cleansing does work.

Unfortunately, I won't be able to go the Philippines to get hold of your wonderful herbalists, homeopath etc, but one thing I have done is order Colonix by DrNatura.com to cleanse my colon. Once I cleanse my colon then I'll do a liver cleanse.

Also will buy a Microwater unit as the type of water in London, UK is a major cause and contributor to eczema sufferers this side of the world. Our diet is also very bad and it takes something as chronic as eczema, P and other things to get us noticing our body lacks the right nutrients or we are malnourished.

Once again, I'm glad you showed up the photos, now we have solid proof that eczema can be cured from the inside out and REALLY fast!!

God Bless U

Aquababe

It's really nice to be free, free to be me
I'd rather be free and happy
Than nobody and sad

I tried going to a chinese doctor, herbalist 2 years ago during a bad eczema flare up and the results were excellent,but I had to drink a real yukky green pasty tea infusion with all the different herbs, that they thought I needed, The doctor is situated in our Bon Accord shopping centre in Aberdeen, and she was excellent.She listened to me and asked various health questions and allergies then made up my tea.

Gentleman,

Thanks for posting your story, I find it quite inspiring.

I have been thinking that it's likely that my eczema is really a sign of something going wrong inside my body and that I must fix it by fixing my diet. Your story gives me some faith to keep on going with the plan.

Do let us know how you are doing!

How do you know for sure that its cured and not just under control? Is it possible that it will flare again?

Congrats though, that's a big improvement!
